TUESDAY JULY 5.

General Fairchild was interviewed at Toledo the other day and he positively stated that he was out of politics, and that he would not be a candidate for President, vice president or any other office.

The probable visit of Mr. Cleveland to St. Louis is giving the people of that town something to do. They are cutting down the weeds and the grass in the streets so that they will not impede the procession. This is a piece of enterprise which is commendable in St. Louis.

Last week the American Tariff League awarded its prizes to college students for essays on the benefits of a protective tariff. There were forty-eight competitors representing eighteen states and thirty-nine colleges. Pennsylvania secured the first prize, but the fact that Michigan and Minnesota took the second and third is proof that intelligent study of tariff doctrine is not limited to New England or the East. The more thoroughly the protective theory is examined and understood the more it will grow in popular favor.

Will Harper's Weekly, and especially George Wilson Curtis, please take notice that two faithful, efficient and experienced clerks have been removed from the treasury department for the purpose of making room for two patriotic democrats. As Mr. Curtis has his eye on the six republican postmasters in the United States that Mr. Cleveland has appointed, and does not see the two thousand democratic postmasters he has appointed, besides 65,000 other places he has filled with democrats, it is well to call his magnum opus attention to those two removals that the democratic administration might have more blood.

BISMARCK'S SOCIALISTIC IDEAS.

An Imputation That the Chancellor Eighteen Rather Than Principles.

LONDON, July 4.—English political economists are evidently the most the most Contented men in the world for possessing wealth in their own eyes. They point out that they have and that of workmen's compulsory insurance are Socialistic ones pure and simple. It is evident, they say, that it is not Socialism but Socialists that Bismarck fights so bitterly, and on account of which he dashes whole regions in a state of siege. He does not hesitate to claim Socialism in the Reichstag as a government measure, but suppresses with iron hand any attempt by the Socialists representatives of the working-class to make out a case to their own views. It is admitted that Prince Bismarck can dispense with logic so long as he has the votes required to carry out his wishes, but there are many who hold that an illegal legislative policy is neither safe nor lasting in its results, and who accordingly protest from the tendency toward state Socialism in Germany.

In Favor of an Extra Session.

WASHINGTON, City, July 4.—Troy has again called an extra session to be opened in the administration of an extra session of congress in October next, but up to this time, the president and Secretary Fairchild have not been persuaded that such an expenditure of public funds as an extra session would involve, will be justifiable. Secretary Fairchild is very emphatic in stating his opinion that the financial situation will not be such as to demand an extra session. He has no fears of embarrassment as a result of an unmanageable surplus. The secretary cannot order in the 4% or the 4 per cent. United States bonds for redemption because he has no authority to do so, and he has not had any attempt by the Senate to give him that power.

The solid south is greatly endangered by prohibition, i.e., the old republican measure of despotism and fanaticism will defeat the democrats in some of the southern states, but the north will be bound to follow the democratic party. It is here where the clover foot becomes visible. The republicans are using prohibition to defeat the democrats in their strongholds and elect their candidates for the president next year.

The foregoing is from the Washington Sentinel, the brewers' organ. If prohibition will break up the solid south and sweep the saloon out of politics, then for righteousness sake let prohibition succeed. Anything that will break the "solid" south and get the mastery over the saloon in politics, will be a grand thing for the south and a splendid triumph of the highest political morals.

If Dr. Wigginson resigned to take a trip to Europe for the rest he so much needs, and Dr. Walter Kempner is appointed as a vindicator, and be resigns by the time Dr. Wigginson gets tested and passes, then Dr. Wigginson is responsible, why is the matter with the good? Are not they all wool and a yard wide? If so, why that evocative border?—Milwaukee Sunday Telegraph.

If the State Board of Supervision loses its good cause, cares nothing for consistency, and abandons completely every principle of manhood, probably the program as suggested by the Sunday Telegraph may be carried out. That kind of goods is not "all wool and a yard wide." It is all shoddy. Dr. Kempner was given the superintendency of the Northern hospital for the all-important and therefore a very substantial reason, that he is the best man for the place.

A business man from Galveston, says the prohibition question has given rise to more discussion in Texas than any issue ever brought before the people.

Those in favor of prohibition live principally in the thickly populated counties in the northern portion of the state, Dallas and Fort Worth being the prohibition strongholds while Galveston, San Antonio and El Paso are opposed to it. Both sides are making a vigorous campaign, and vast quantities of printed matter for and against the amendment are distributed throughout the state. The anti-prohibitionists publish an illustrated paper in Dallas at the cost of $2,000 per month, and 20,000 copies are distributed each issue. It is generally reported in Texas that the brewers and liquor men of St. Louis have sent large sums of money into the state to be used during the campaign, and the prohibitionists are equally liberal in expending money, so that the election will be stubbornly contested on both sides, and the race will be very close. Most of the leading business men of Texas are opposed to prohibition, but it is said that fully two-thirds of the newspapers in the state are in favor of it, and many leading men are fighting on that side.

The Shipping League of New York met the other day to exchange grumblings on the tariff question, when the following was adopted:

WHEREAS, The present high protective tariff was passed by congress a war measure to provide an unusually large revenue to defray the enormous expense of the war, and

WHEREAS, The said tariff has been and is a great and grievous burden upon the people,

Resolved, That it now becomes a serious and vital question for congress to consider whether said tariff amounting to almost a prohibition of trade with foreign countries, has not been and is the cause of the destruction of the merchant marine of the United States, which has almost totally disappeared during the time said tariff has been in force.

If American commerce has been driven from the sea, as the shipping leagues says it has, who is responsible for it? If the English flag is seen on five times as many vessels flying between the United States and Europe as are seen on American vessels, what is the explanation? Why doesn't the Shipping League give an explanation? England fosters its merchant marine. The United States does not.

Since the democratic administration began its peculiar work of reform, congress made an appropriation of some $300,000 for foreign mail service. This was a good thing to do. But the democratic postmaster general refused to apply the money as congress intended it should be applied, and instead of using it to support American steamships, it was used in a way to benefit directly English ships on the plea, of course, that English vessel offered to carry the mail cheaper than the American. England handsomely subsidizes her steamships—the United States does not. The English government, by appropriations of millions every year, builds up her merchant marine—the United States does nothing. The present administration does not promote shipbuilding, and it opposes the support of American merchant marine.

BRIEFLETS.

The day after the Fourth.

The Fire Police met this evening.

Grand worthy Foreman Griffith returned to Chicago this morning.

The Bower City Cadets drill this evening at the Guards' armory.

—Lumber for Ed. F. Carpenter's building, was unloaded at the bridge to-day.

—On next Sunday the union service will be held in Court street M. E. church.

—Miss Jessie Bell, of Clinton, has been a guest of Miss Nellie Smith of the first ward.

—Five arrests were made yesterday, but all of the offenders were finally released.

—W. H. Ashcraft and family started this morning for a summer of camping at Geneva Lake.

—Two Whitewater men brought out a wheel of frost yesterday, but Marshal Hogan squelched them.

Janesville City Lodge No. 99, I. O. O. F., occupy Odd Fellows' hall this evening—regular weekly session.

—Harry L. Wiley returned to his home in Chicago this morning after a brief visit with friends in the first ward.

—Will Buchholz, now of Milwaukee, returned to work this morning, after spending the Fourth in Janesville.

—Mr. Wm. Graves is passing around the cigar in honor of a baby girl that came to his home about ten days ago.

—Abbott, of the Mutuals, strained his ankle badly in the afternoon game with the Gordons and is now laid up.

—Western Star Lodge No. 14, F. and A. M., assemble in regular semi-monthly communication this evening at Masonic Hall.

—S. Leon Bancroft, of Madison, was in the city yesterday taking in the sights. He was the guest of F. B. Phelps, of the Fourth ward.

—Operator Morgan at the Milwaukee & St. Paul depot, boasts of being the only one in this part of the state to receive messages by type writer.

—Several tennis experts are included in the list of Janesville young ladies attending school out of town and a local tennis club will probably be organized.

—George E. Wright, who is now in the wholesale department of Marshall Field, returned to Chicago this morning after a week's visit with friends in this city.

—Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Brown, of Wells, Minn., arrived in the city yesterday morning, called here to attend the funeral of Mrs. Brown's father, the late Luther S. Fellows. Mr. Brown returns home this evening.

—The Woman's Missionary society of the Congregational church, will meet Wednesday at 3 p. m. in the parlor of the church. All interested in mission work are cordially invited to attend this meeting.

—Frank L. Hayden's mardi-gras speech was very comprehensive. To use his own words, he took in "everything that predilected day when the only inhabitants of the country were Romeo's mate and one of Otis Brand's jakes."

Garrett Callahan, assistant yardmaster of the Milwaukee and St. Paul railroad in Chicago, was shot and instantly killed by his uncle, Dennis Callahan, at 1:30 o'clock Sunday afternoon. According to the statement of the slayer, jealous and revenge were the motives for the crime.

The murdered man formerly lived in this city and had many friends. He leaves a wife and six children. His murderer, who surrendered himself to the police, for fear of lynching, has always borne a rather bad reputation.

—Sunday afternoon at two o'clock funeral services were held over the remains of the late Rev. Harry Fullan, Rev. S. F. Wilder, a classmate of the Rev. Frederick Fullan officiated. The remains were interred in Oak Hill cemetery.

—Frauds are going about the country collecting $10 royalty on drive wells, a late decision of the supreme court having decided valid the patent. This decision of course only applies to wells put in before January 21, 1885, as the patent expired with this date.

—Sunday afternoon at two o'clock funeral services were held over the remains of the late Rev. Harry Fullan, Rev. S. F. Wilder, a classmate of the Rev. Frederick Fullan officiated. The remains were interred in Oak Hill cemetery.

—The Rev. Dr. Dodge preached a very able discourse Sunday morning from the text "Blessed is the nation whose God is the Lord." In point of practical application and rich illustration, it was one of the finest efforts listened to in the city in a long time.

—The Woman's Foreign Mission Society, of Court Street M. E. Church, will meet with Mrs. M. M. Phelps, on Wednesday, July 6th, at 3:45 p.m. in the auditorium and Prospects street for its office and store room for tools, shovels, picks, scrapers, etc. Mr. Paxton expects to get everything ready to commence work on next Monday. He says they will probably employ about one hundred men, and will lay about fifteen hundred feet of pipe per day. They bring their skilled workmen with them, but expect to give Janesville laborers plenty of work in the ditches.

—Mr. Theodore Conant, son of Mr. and Mrs. S. D. Conant of the first ward, is spending a few days at his old home in the city. Mr. Conant has been connected with one of the heavy wholesale hardware houses of St. Louis for some years past, and is recognized as one of the best hardware men in the west.

—Still they come. Another shipment consisting of five car loads of Olydesdale, English shire and Cleveland Bay horses, arrived yesterday morning from the Grafton Bros. They numbered all at 25 head and are as usual a grand lot, the best in fact, that time and experience can buy.

JANESVILLE'S FOURTH.

of Janesville (Mount Hope) for burial.

The pall bearers were Messrs. O. E. Myhr, Alfred Dewey, S. B. Kenyon and Levi Caniff.

During the heavy rain and wind storm on Saturday evening lightning struck Christ church, doing considerable damage to the interior of the church by knocking off plastering. The church was insured. About the same time the wind wrecked the roof on the "old post office" building at the east end of Milwaukee street bridge, and tipped over the chimney on Todd's brewery. In falling the chimney wrecked a large number of telephone wires. Lightning also struck the house of Morris Stanck, fifth ward, wrecking the chimney and severely frightening the family, who were at the upper table. Many trees were blown down in different parts of the city. The rain came down in torrents, and for a time the streets and gutters were flooded, it being the first heavy rain of the season.
